

CDI Herbert Solomon (Solly) MBE and DS Nigel Mitchell (Mitch) have just teamed up for a three book series on murder and other crimes.

The two detectives have a hard job to solve a serial killer's crimes, with no sound motives, no DNA and several false trails.

But the pressure is on them to solve these murders quickly, or hand the cases over to somebody who can.

These murders are very different from those one usually reads about, and the killer is clever.

The Severn Estuary is their graveyard.

The Naked Corpse is the first in Bill Jackman's 'Solly & Mitch' murder mystery trilogy. He has written and published several works of fiction, as well as poetry and plays, and two books on antiques. Bill is retired and lives with his wife Jinty in Weston-super-Mare.
